DARRYL THREAT

After proudly serving in the United States Air Force and spending more than a decade in both retail and business-to-business sales, I relocated from Cleveland to Columbus to pursue my passion for real estate. I began my career in new home sales, where I earned Rookie of the Year and consistently ranked among the top 3% of sales professionals in the company.

After finding success in new construction, I transitioned into building my own real estate business, focused on providing a high level of service and guidance for buyers, sellers, and investors throughout the Columbus area. I pride myself on listening closely to my clients' needs, helping them navigate the process with confidence, and delivering results while making the experience as smooth and stress-free as possible. My personable yet professional approach has allowed me to build lasting relationships, and much of my business comes from referrals and repeat clients.

Outside of real estate, my wife—a United States Army veteran and registered nurse—and I enjoy experiencing everything Columbus has to offer, and I'm also an avid movie-goer and lifelong Cleveland sports fan.
