EMILY SCHMITT

Emily Schmitt with Carleton Realty has been helping clients buy and sell homes since 2015, combining industry experience with a personalized, relationship-focused approach. As part of her family's real estate business, Emily is deeply invested not only in her clients' success but also in the growth of her team. She works one-on-one with new agents who join the company, providing hands-on training, mentorship, and support to help them build confidence and thrive in their careers.

Emily believes real estate is more than transactions — it's about educating people and guiding them through the process with honesty, communication, and care.

Outside of real estate, Emily and her husband, Derek, stay busy raising their four daughters, who are actively involved in sports and 4H. When she isn't working with clients or sitting in the stands cheering her girls on, Emily enjoys reading, baking sourdough, and spending time with her family and their farm animals.
